For students with diverse learning needs, Amundsen has specially-designed learning environments to address required IEP or 504 supports, including small instructional classes, collaborative co-taught courses, and consultation services. Diverse learners have regular access to multiple related service providers, such as social workers, psychologists, vision and hearing specialists, occupational therapists, and more.

Amundsen endeavors to meet the academic needs of all learners including those with who qualify for advanced academic standing. Students whose needs diverge from this chart will be accommodated on an individual basis.
